

Re: proceeding 02-278 - Telephone privacy

Please do not reform Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. I enjoy being able to sit through dinner each evening without being interrupted by telemarketers. I have never purchased any items or services from a solicited call in my life and I don't know anyone that has ever done so. Allowing less stringent guidelines for telemarketing and "survey" calls is not fair to those of us who have already petitioned for seclusion from these calls. Furthermore, I believe that implementing a do not call policy helps the companies making the calls. It saves them time and keeps them from being treated impolitely and from being hung up on. Thank you for your time.

Paul Sanders